Antioch High to Open Glenbrook Gym Fri.; Play Wauconda Next

Sequoits Lose to Grant 30-43; Win From Warren Here 59-54

After breaking even in last week's games, Antioch's Sequoits will take on two more tough games this week end with a second bid for victory in one and a hope for revenge in the other.

The Scottmen will get the honor of being the first visiting team to play Glenbrook in its new gymnasium Friday evening. The Spartans will attempt to dedicate their new home with a victory, but the Sequoits will show no hesitancy in trying to win any more than Grant did at the opening of the Elia-Veron gym a few weeks ago.

On Saturday evening Antioch will meet Wauconda on the Bulldog floor, in the second round of play which will give the Sequoits opportunity to return the defeat Wauconda gave them at the outset of the season.

Wauconda with 13 victories and 4 losses is in third place among Lake County teams and pushing Grant hard for second place. Barrington is first, and Waukegan, fourth, ahead of the Sequoits who are now in fifth place. In the conference standing Antioch is now in a fourth place tie with Palatine.

Grant 45, Antioch 34
The Sequoits learned why Grant High is leading the Northwest conference last Friday night, to the tune of 43 to 30.

The Bulldogs, mostly seniors, have a little more experience and seasoning than the Sequoits who are mostly juniors.

But the loss by the varsity was made up in part by the overtime victory of Warren Polley's frosh-soph team over the Grant underclassmen 47 to 45.

And the varsity did a nice comeback Saturday evening defeating the Warren Blue Devils 59 to 54 on the Antioch floor. In the preliminary the Antioch underclassmen again emerged victorious, this time, 50 to 39.

The Antioch-Grant varsity game was one of the lowest scoring games of the season and left the Sequoits still the lowest scored against team.

With Billy Grenell operating in the pivot, the Bulldogs employed a slow breaking offense and ran the score up to 19 to 6 before the Antioch players got started and closed the gap to 19-10 at the half. The Sequoits rallied in the third quarter, outscoring the Bulldogs 12-10, but Grant's final quarter reputation was maintained for a 14-8 finish.

The man-to-man defense of Grant held the Scottmen to but eight field goals. Mike Haviland was high point man for the Sequoits with 10 markers.

Antioch 59, Warren 54
Free throws decided the victory for Antioch over Warren Saturday night. Both teams made 19 field goals but the Sequoits converted 21 out of their 28 chances at the free throw stripe and Haviland made 12 of them. Warren made but 16 of her 32 chances.

Antioch led most of the way, playing such a strong defense that Warren's heavy scorers, Dave Decker and Stu Meissner were both held to fewer than 10 points. Ben Floyd was high point man for the Sequoits with 17 points, which was matched by Tom Howard of the Blue Devils.

Little League Has Neat Start to Start Year 1954

The Antioch Little League had an income of $2,275.75 and expenses totaling $1,287.96, according to the report of the treasurer, Roman Vos, for 1953.

With $363.01 left from 1952, the league now has a total of $1,350.84 to start the new year.

Advertising on the fence and bleachers brought in $935 as the top income, with the sale of pop and other refreshment totaling $444.35 as second. The Moose lodge gave $250 for the pony league and the Lions Club $250. Then the league received $188.91 as its share of the Chicago Cardinal game in Waukegan.

Equipment for 1953 and 1954 accounts for most of the expense besides the $20 franchise, and trophies and prizes.

Lake County Short of Goal in Bond Buying

Residents of Lake county purchased a total of $384,716 in Series E United States Savings Bonds in the calendar year 1953 according to figures received from the Treasury Department by James F. Stiles of North Chicago, volunteer savings bonds chairman in the county. This represents 92.0 per cent of the county's 1953 quota.

Arnold J. Rauen, State Director of the United States Savings Bonds Division of the Treasury Department announced that the State of Illinois had exceeded its annual dollar quota with the sales of Series E and H bonds totaling $397,659,046. This represents 101.7 per cent of the quota assigned and an increase of 30 per cent over sales for 1952. Sixty counties in Illinois made the quota assigned to them for the year according to Mr. Rauen and Illinois led all industrial states in percentage of quota achieved.

Good Snow Fall Tuesday

Four and one-half inches of snow fell in Antioch Tuesday night, and it was a welcome sight to farmers who say the soil needs moisture. The snow packed on the highways and made traveling treacherous, however.

Antioch Schools Plan To Give Examinations On Two Constitutions

Graduates Must Pass Tests Under New State Law to Graduate

Antioch eighth grade and high school students will devote much time during the coming semester to the study of the United States Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, the Illinois State Constitution, and the display of the American flag.

A new state law now makes it necessary for the graduates of grade schools, high schools and junior colleges to take examinations on the constitutions.

Principal Albert Dittman said that studies of the constitution have and will be conducted on the junior level with opportunity for seniors to get this training. He said that there are too many important pillars in American history to be disturbed by the additional requirements, and a committee is giving thought to the plan of an additional course next year which would give particular attention to these required subjects. This would provide a year's study of various phases of American government.

He insisted though that the new courses are merely in the exploratory stage.

Sends for Materials

Supt. Richard Whitacre said he had written to Springfield for materials to be used in teaching the state constitution. The Federal Constitution and the Declaration of Independence are studied in the seventh grade which takes American history up to 1860.

Eighth graders study American history from 1860 on, and they likely will study the state constitution.

Supt. Whitacre said that so far he has not been informed as to the type of examinations that must be given and how they will be given.

County Supt. W. C. Petty said that he has obtained Illinois Blue Books containing information about the state and copies of the state and federal constitutions which he will make available to schools.

It is necessary for public school officials to give the examinations and certify the students have, or have not passed the tests before they can get state aid.

Another state law that soon will go into effect is the abolishment of the township school trustee and treasurer. This makes necessary for schools to go together in selecting a treasurer.

A part of the township school trustees' power was taken away last year when the county board of school trustees was created. Robert Wilton, Antioch electrical contractor and store operator was elected to that board. The township school trustee office will be abolished on June 1.

Supt. Petty said that where there is a high school in the community, it and the grade school can go together in electing a treasurer. This has been done. Other schools like Grass Lake, Channel Lake, Hickory, and Emmons can likewise go together in selecting a treasurer.

THE EARLY BIRD

Chamber of Commerce Seeks Suggestions for Projects This Year

Members of the Chamber of Commerce have been asked by the new officers to bring suggestions to the luncheon meeting Monday for projects of the chamber during the coming year.

The monthly meeting will be at 12 noon at Smart's Country House and the officers are hoping for a full attendance.

Already acting on one suggestion the chamber is taking up the proposal to have a public telephone in a booth in the business district which will be available at all hours.

It was pointed out that after the closing of the restaurants at 2 a. m. or later, no telephone is available to turn in alarms or place calls for help.

Persons passing through the village seeing a fire or a burglary would have no way at present of turning in an alarm during the early morning hours. Or should they observe an accident in which someone was hurt, they could not summon help.

Permission for establishment of a public booth must first be obtained from the village board, but once that is obtained the Bell Telephone Co. has signified its willingness to install the booth and telephone.

A discussion on shoppers' bus service will also be held.

Petition Will Oppose Rezoning for Industry at Venetian Village

Lake Villa Area Has Problems Connected with the Community's Growth

The Lake Villa area is having growing pains.

Recently the West Miltimore section and the original section of Venetian Village, failed to get together on a proposal to incorporate as a village.

Shortly afterward there was a disagreement within the West Miltimore Center group and the president of that organization resigned.

Now petitions are being circulated in an attempt to prevent N. H. Engle and Sons, promoters of Venetian Village rezoning property on the north side of Grand ave. to light industry.

The Engle sons want to establish a shopping center in the new addition that was formerly the Lehmann estate, and at the same time want to provide space for light industry to supply jobs for local residents near home.

Venetian Village residents have no objections to the trading center—in fact they want it, but they don't want a rezoning that will permit undesirable industry or other business near the residential section.

Lake Villa residents attended a protest meeting last Saturday evening attempting to discourage the idea of a shopping center which would compete with business in that village.

Lake Villa is much in the position of Round Lake which saw surrounding territory subdivided and incorporated villages formed that were larger than the original village. Now there is talk of uniting these villages, and Round Lake, like Lake Villa is still trying to solve its sewage disposal problem.

Accent on Selling

Business spokesmen are close to unanimous in believing that this year competition for the consumer's dollar will be extremely intense. Consequently, businesses of all kinds will have to concentrate on improving their selling methods—and in holding down costs in every possible way.

The consumer will reap the fruits of this at the retail level. And American merchandising is not at all surprised or unprepared for the current trend. Long ago leading retail organizations began to plan for the inevitable return of a strong buyers' market, and now that market is here. It was brought about by the enormous production of our factories, which swiftly overcame the postwar shortages and in many instances created surpluses, coupled with cuts in military and foreign aid spending and other factors.

Most of the economists seem to think that there will be some decline in business activity this year, but nothing like a serious slump. If we do avoid a slump, it will be in large part due to the aggressiveness of American retailing. Retailing, collectively, is the biggest of all businesses. And the amount of money that flows across store counters determine whether times are good or bad in this country. Distribution is truly the key to prosperity.

Our retailers have successfully met many a challenge in the past. There is every reason to believe they will successfully meet whatever challenges the future brings.

Doctors Don't Run to Washington

A short time ago a St. Louis Globe-Democrat reporter interviewed the president of the American Medical Education Foundation, and wrote a strong constructive story about that institution's work. Later, the paper ran an editorial in which it commended American medicine for the prodigious job it is doing in the field of medical education. It also praised the doctors for carrying out the job themselves instead of running to Washington for money.

Many people have been misled into the belief that the medical fraternity is perfectly satisfied with the status quo and is doing little or nothing to improve matters. That idea is 100 per cent wrong. Medical education is an excellent example. Our medical schools are operating under a heavy financial strain. The foundation was founded in 1950 to do something positive to help. It has raised $2,700,000 from doctors alone. And, along with the National Fund for Medical Education with which it cooperates, contributions to-taining $5,100,000 have been obtained during the last three years.

In every phase of medicine, hard work is quietly going on, and it has but one objective—to give the American people better and more extensive medical care. We see this in the endless research to learn more about the cause and cure and prevention of disease. And we see it as well in the search for sound ways and means to lessen the financial shock of illness.

It is true that medicine opposes dictation by government, even as it opposes tax subsidization of activities that are the responsibility of private groups and individuals. That opposition is based on the sure knowledge that the greatest progress for all will come by maintaining medicine in an atmosphere of freedom, not in an atmosphere of political coercion.

Success Should Not Be Punished

A federal judge recently dismissed a Justice Department suit against a big chemical company which was filed six years ago under the anti-trust laws. He said that "the facts destroy the charges," and that there was no proof of monopoly. Then he made the extremely significant point that the company should not "be punished for its success."

There can be no question that, for many years, powerful groups in the government as well as out of it have regarded "bigness" as an evil, even when it is obvious that growth has come about as a result of giving good service to the public—not from any lack of competition. It is hard to think of a philosophy which could do more to weaken America's economic strength. There is room and need here for both the colossal business and the tiny one. And there is opportunity for all.

A Town Needs a "Front Door"

"A towns without a railroad is about as much handicapped as a house without a front door," said The Everett, Pennsylvania, Press, recently.

There is a world of truth in that striking observation. For a railroad, despite the emergence and growth of other forms of mass transportation, probably does more than any single factor to keep a community "on the map."

The railroads haul more inter-city freight than all the rest of the carriers combined. They haul it safely in all kinds of weather and in every season. Railroad service has reached such a high state of dependability that only a rare phenomenon of nature can delay freight or passenger movements by rail for any appreciable length of time. We pay the railroads the high compliment of taking it for granted that they'll do their huge job day in and day out with never a disruption.

During this holiday season, as every year, we have witnessed an outstanding demonstration of the railroads' capacity and efficiency. Billions of gifts and greetings have flowed in an endless stream across the continent—and the majority of them moved by rail. And so did the staggering accumulations of merchandise of every conceivable kind which the stores stocked for the holiday trade.

Yes—a railroad is a town's "front door."

Cook County Republicans Endorse Lake Candidates For 13th District Offices

Republican Township Committeemen of Cook county Monday night unanimously endorsed the candidacies of Marguerite Stitt Church, U. S. Representative from the 13th Congressional District, and Mark H. Beaubien, candidate for State Central Committeeman from the 13th Congressional District.

Mrs. Church, who was elected to Congress in 1950 to succeed her husband, the late Ralph E. Church, is unopposed in her bid for the Republican nomination and is expected to receive the enthusiastic endorsement of the Lake County Central committee.

Beaubien, a Waukegan attorney and World War II Marine veteran, is seeking the office now held by James E. Simpson, Jr., of Wadsworth, who has announced he will not seek re-election.

Simpson, who served as host for the party leaders at a dinner meeting at a Cook county restaurant Monday, urged full support of Beaubien on the basis of his past record of service to the party which he has served as a precinct committeeman since 1942 and as a member of the executive board of the central committee.

Jack D. Williams, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central committee, submitted Beaubien's name for the endorsement Monday adding he was sure the Lake County committeemen would endorse the Waukegan committe-

WRESTLING

Sky Hi Lee, the most incredible human ever to wrestle for a living, will bend bones with bearded Ivan Rasputin in the main event of Zion's all-star muscle shindig Saturday night. It will take place in the Zion-Benton High School gymnasium, the show slated to begin at 8:30 p. m. under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A great many of Lake county's sports fans have been stirred up over this tussle. It's both a curious and tumultuous event when Sky Hi Lee treads his six-foot-ten-inch frame, and 290 pounds across a mat arena. He's a giant reincarnation of an ancient nightmare. And so angry have citizens in many states grown while watching him that he was almost lynched in Alabama last year, and was knifed during a tour of India.

The giant is said to consume the diet of five normal men. He eats five pounds of steak or 16 eggs at a sitting. He was once a fire-eater and human pin-cushion in a traveling circus. He also boxed a spell, knocking a fellow out in 14 seconds. Of recent years he has owned a sprawling ranch in Canada. Rasputin, a 245-pounder with a five-foot-nine stature, has also had a hectic life of wrestling. He suffered trachoma once and was blinded two years. This bearded soul lumbers along like a bear, giving topnotchers in the business plenty of trouble. He will wrestle Lee for one hour or two of three falls.

A six-man Battle Royal tag match rounds out the Zion card. Reggie Lisowski, Bull Montana and Zack Malkov are matched against Johnny Balbo, Rocky Columbo and Billy Goelz.

Your Income Tax

Head of Household Benefit for Federal Income Tax Filing

An unmarried person who qualifies as a head of a household is entitled to a tax benefit for 1953. This benefit extends to taxpayers not having spouses, but required to maintain a household for the benefit of other individuals.

The tax relief is about one-half of the benefit that a married couple is given under the split-income computation.

Forms to Be Used

To obtain this tax relief, you must file either a long or a short-form 1040 return. It is not available to taxpayers who file the yellow form 1040A. When the return is made out, you must be sure to claim the status of the head of the household by completing Schedule J on Page Two of the return.

Qualifications

To qualify as head of a household, you must be unmarried at the end of your taxable year. This includes a single person, a person legally separated or divorced, a widow or widower. You would not qualify as "head of a household" in the year your spouse dies. In this case you are generally entitled to file a joint return. If you are married to a non-resident alien at any time during your taxable year but otherwise meet the following tests, you are considered head of a household since you are not permitted to file a joint return. You must furnish over half the maintenance of a home which is your principal residence and which, except for temporary absences, you share during the entire taxable year with a dependent qualifying in the following categories:

What Is Magnetism?

A material such as iron is made up of a multitude of minute magnets, called magnetic domains. Ordinarily they are in random positions. The effect of one neutralizes that of another and they all cancel out. When the bar is placed in a magnetic field (produced, for example, by an electromagnet) these domains tend to line up and the bar is magnetized.

Library News

Burl Ives, as a professional singer, chose his repertoire from the folk songs of the United States and Great Britain. His songs were collected from family sources at first, but as his fame grew, songs were sent to him from all over the world. Albert Hague has made simple and appropriate piano arrangements for the songs, many of which never had or were intended to have, piano accompaniment. "The Burl Ives Song Book" was presented to the Antioch Township Library in memory of Dr. Williams.

In "Doctors, People, and Government," also presented to the library in memory of Dr. Williams, Dr. James Means discusses the medical needs of our country. Dr. Means, one of America's foremost physicians, has been trying for many years to work out the problems of medical care for all of our people in all parts of our country. This book gives his recommendations for better cooperation of doctors, people, and government.

"Public Education in the United States," by E. P. Cubberley, is designed to answer any question about the evolution and development of our public school system. Written in an attractive narrative style, this is a book that will interest parents as well as teachers. "Public Education in the United States" is available at the library in memory of Ensign Robert Thompson.

W. S. C. S. TO HOLD MEETING TUESDAY

Antioch High Artists May Enter Contest of Monticello College

Cash prizes of $500, with a $100 first prize, and the opportunity to have their art work judged by an outstanding jury of artists and art teachers including Fred Conway and Tanasko Milovich, are offered to high school senior girls in this community who enter the Monticello College Exhibition of Secondary School art before the deadline on March 31, 1954, according to an announcement received in the local high school this week.

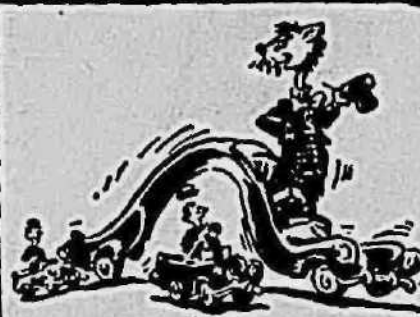

The exhibition is sponsored by Monticello College in Alton, Ill., with funds donated by an alumna and member of the board of trustees of the college, Mrs. Spencer T. Olin, who specified this use of the money to stimulate the growing interest in art education in high schools. In its 116 years, Monticello has traditionally emphasized art. Four members of its art department faculty will serve as an exhibition committee to choose the fifty exhibition entries from which the jury will select the prizewinners.

Media eligible for entry are: water color, pastel, drawing, graphic drawing, sculpture. The artist may submit one or more works in any or all categories. The Ann Whitney Olin grand award of $100 will be presented for the best work in any eligible medium, a $50 award each for a work in water color or pastel and a work in sculpture, drawing, or graphic drawing; $25 each for one work in each of the five eligible media; and seventeen honor awards of $10 each will be made for works in any medium.
